

CAPP

Centro de Administração
e Políticas Públicas

CENTRE FOR PUBLIC POLICY AND ADMINISTRATION

QUALITY OF GOVERNANCE «--» QUALITY OF LIFE

Transformational Communities.

A Programmatic ambivalence as a learning path for the cognitive planet

P. Castro Seixas, Nadine Lobner

Contents

The Vision

The Approach

The Methodological Itineraries

The feedforwarding

The Vision: Territorial Research Projects

VISION: Regions (Transnational and National) and Cities as core networks for Sustainable Development Goals

RESEARCH LINE: Territorial Policies and Sustainable Development

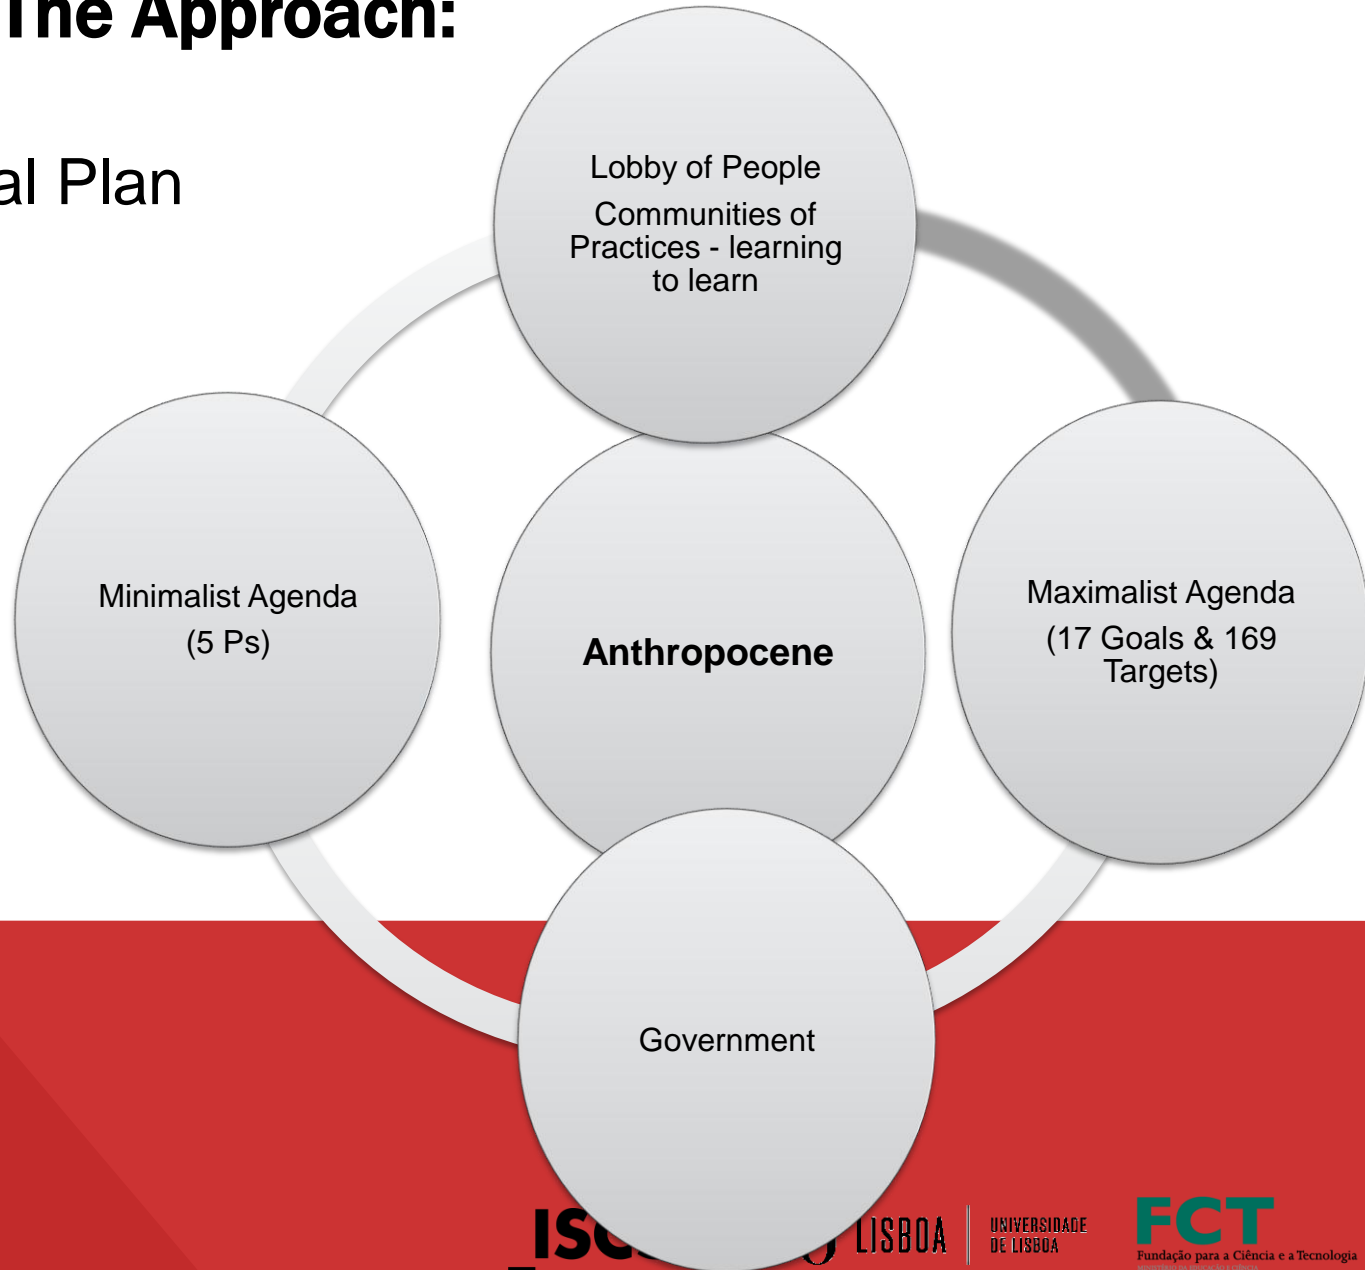

PROJECTS:

- CRISEA (Competing Regional Integrations In Southeast Asia)
- REGION 2020 (Strategic Determinants of Local and Regional Development)
- GOV-M (Evaluation of Multilevel Governance of Metropolitan Areas in Portugal)
- CRICTY (Children And Their Right To The City: Tackling Urban Inequity Through The Participatory Design Of Child Friendly Cities)

The Approach:

Transformational Plan

Programmatic
Ambivalence

Achieving a transformational learning path

‘Big Picture’

Double bound process

Bottom-up/Top-down development within the Anthropocene

Methodological

Bridging Individual/group & Planetary
Transformational Plans

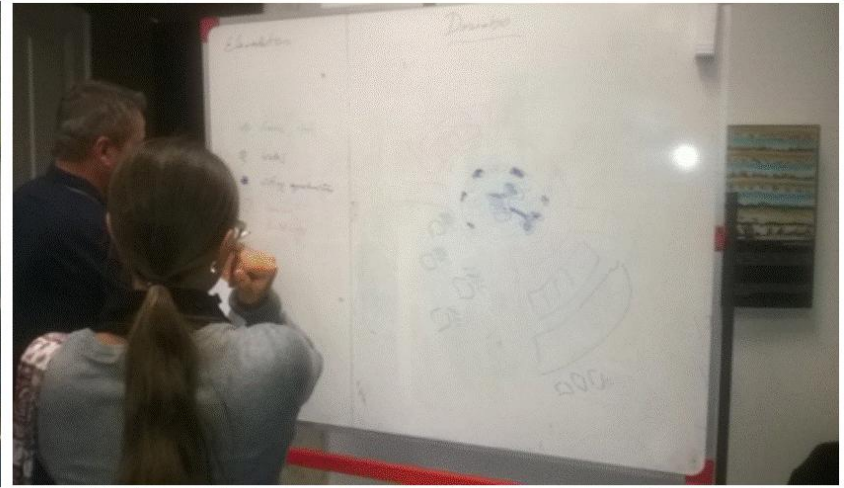

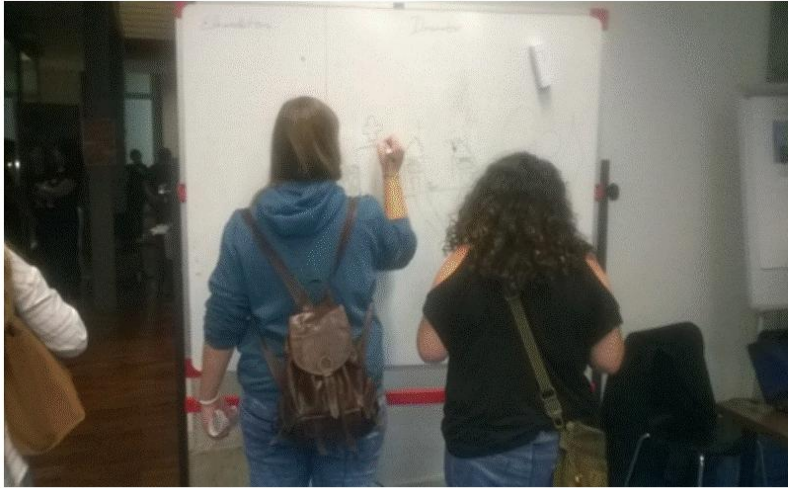

Itineraries

Citizen Science/Collaborative Design/...

Exploratory Experiences on Bridging Transformational Plans

Exploratory Experiences on Bridging Transformational Plans

Source: Seixas P., R. Dias

Citizen Science as Collaborative and Public process of transforming the present and pushing a better future

Proposing a new learning path for a cognitive planet

Learning experiences: hegemonic replication through Lobby of People

Creating transformational Communities of Practices

THANK YOU FOR YOUR ATTENTION

For Partnerships Contact:

Paulo Castro Seixas

pseixas@iscsp.ulisboa.pt

Nadine Lobner

nlobner@iscsp.ulisboa.pt